

LAST EDITION

FELLOWS, NOT THE ICEMAN.

Tammany Slates the Colonel for Congress in the Sixth District.

Various Headquarters Located--Republican Straightshots Weaken.

According to this morning's late "Ice-man" Turner is to be turned down. It is said that Tammany Hall has no further use for him in Congress, and after one term, in which he has made a brave record, the young orator is to be relegated to the rear, though probably not to the ice wagon, for he has proven himself possessed of abilities which fit him for a higher social position.

Col. John H. Fellows, present District Attorney of the County of New York, is the man who is slated for nomination at tonight's convention.

Col. Fellows is a County Democrat, but has announced that he would not vote for the Fusion ticket, and Tammany Hall takes him up as a Democrat simply, and will probably make him a member of the organization later.

He resides at Washington Heights, seven miles away from the district in which it is proposed to nominate him. The Colonel was early in the campaign, spoken of in connection with the Thirtieth District nomination, Congressman Asahel P. Fitch to be named for District Attorney.

This arrangement fell through and there was left but the Sixth District in which he could be named.

There is no mystery surrounding this cutting short of the Congressional career of the young "Ice-man."

His course did not meet with the approval of Russell P. Flower, Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, and the word was passed that his return to Washington was not desired.

Col. Fellows will have a strong opponent in Joseph L. McKean, the County Democratic candidate, a popular young resident of the district.

The real hard work of the campaign was practically begun to-day.

The Executive Committee of each of the State Committees have established headquarters--the Democrats at the Hoffman House and the Republicans at the Fifth Avenue Hotel--and a began to direct the fight for Congressional and legislative representation.

Francis M. Scott, the fusion candidate for Mayor, who found headquarters ready prepared for him in the P. M. L. rooms at the Victoria Annex, has taken his room, and will begin the conduct of his own campaign.

Mayor Grant's headquarters will be, as usual, at the Union Square Hotel. A full force of clerks and workers will be installed here in a day or two.

FOREIGN NEWS BY CABLE.

Another Serious Clash Between England and Portugal.

Anxiety on London 'Change at the Week's Opening.

IN CABLE TO THE PRESS NEW ASSOCIATION. LONDON, Oct. 13.--News comes from Mozambique that the British squadron, recently reinforced, pushed up the Zambezi to break the Portuguese blockade of the river. They found a line of boats stretched from bank to bank and chained together.

One of the British men-of-war steamed ahead at full speed, and broke through the line, sinking a Portuguese vessel in the operation.

Lisbon is wild with the report of the affair, and the excitement has been communicated to Madrid, where the Republicans manifest great sympathy with their Portuguese brethren.

An Anxious Week Opens on the London Stock Exchange.

IN CABLE TO THE PRESS NEW ASSOCIATION. LONDON, Oct. 13.--The week opens in anxiety on the Stock Exchange. Rumors possess the street that several big houses are suffering from Thursday's squeeze, and failures are apprehended.

The market for American railways is depressed and uneasy and prices uncertain.

Tipperary as the Waterloo and Plevna of the Irish Land Question.

IN CABLE TO THE PRESS NEW ASSOCIATION. DUBLIN, Oct. 13.--At a meeting held yesterday at Kildare, County Clare, Joseph R. Cox, M. P., said that Messrs. Dillon and O'Connell were being carried to America with all the speed of a powerful steamer, while Jeremiah Jordan, the member for West Clare, described Tipperary as the Waterloo and Plevna of the Irish land question.

Immense Attendance of Salvationists at Mrs. Booth's Funeral.

IN CABLE TO THE PRESS NEW ASSOCIATION. LONDON, Oct. 13.--At the funeral of Mrs. Booth, today, Salvationists filed the 25,000 seats in the Olympia, at Hammersmith, and crowded to its utmost capacity the immense building and its annexes.

Detachments of the Salvation Army came from all over England. Gen. Booth conducted the afternoon services in person.

Oxford's Professor of Political Economy is Dead.

IN CABLE TO THE PRESS NEW ASSOCIATION. OXFORD, Oct. 13.--The well-known Professor of Political Economy at Oxford University, J. E. Thorold Rogers, M. A., died at his residence last night.

Mr. Rogers was elected to his present post in 1888.

1,700,000 BY THE REGOUT.

ONE FINANCIERE IS FREE.

Mrs. Field Released by Judge Barrett on a Habeas Corpus.

The Other Bankers' Wife is Retained and Held on a Charge of Larceny.

There are only six election districts to hear from, yet already the police commission shows a population for New York of 1,680,000, or 167,000 greater than the 1890 census.

The other four districts reported a population of 64,076, which is an increase over the 1890 figures of 6,567.

Five districts were reported to-day, one of them completing the canvass of the Tenth Ward, and showing for that Ward a population of 64,076, which is an increase over the 1890 figures of 6,567.

Thus these five districts last to come in average 2,000 each. It is continued in the six districts still unreported would make the total of the city's population 1,698,804.

But the average increases with each new report, and the final total will reach beyond the 1,700,000 mark, showing that the 1890 figures were correct.

The rough estimate of the official census takers, Mayor Grant's office is 1,698,804 for the 1901 election districts.

Mr. Field was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

Charles W. Barrett, of the City of New York, was released by Judge Barrett on a habeas corpus, but the wife of the banker, who was retained and held on a charge of larceny.

DR. FLEMING LOCKED UP, TOO.

Arrested for Grand Larceny from Murderer Stephan's Mother.

Five Thousand Dollars Given to Insurance Commission in Lunacy.

Dr. Walter M. Fleming, of 13 West Twenty-sixth street, was arrested this morning, and Milton K. Littlefield, a lawyer and contractor, is charged with the larceny of a charge of grand larceny, preferred by Mrs. Josephine Stephan, the wealthy widow, whose son Alphonse shot Judge Clinton G. Bonvillian in the latter's law office, at Wall street, May 15 last, out of revenge.

Mr. Reynolds died a few days later in Chambers Street Hospital.

The tragedy created a sensation at the time. The murderer was locked up in the Tombs. His mother secured the services of Howland Russell, and Daniel Dougherty to defend the boy, and in July last they suggested to District Attorney Fellows the necessity of appointing a commission to inquire into the mental condition of their client.

The District Attorney requested Judge Martin to appoint such a commission, and by his request the Judge named Dr. Fleming, who had been Col. Fellows's friend and family physician for twenty years, Judge Martin named Lawyer Gilbert M. Speer, one of the executors of Robert Ray Hamilton's will, and Dr. Clymer, to act with Dr. Fleming.

They found that young Stephan was insane, but their report was not made out before Judge Martin had gone to Lake George for a summer vacation, so, instead of being returned to some lunatic retreat for the mentally irresponsible, Stephan continued to languish in the Tombs.

His mother had reason to feel that this was unjust, so she sought out Judge Martin, and through the efforts of her lawyer, she had Stephan removed to the City of New York, where he has been locked up ever since.

Dr. Fleming was in Europe when the facts came out, and returned only yesterday, with his wife, on the City of New York.

Mr. Home, of Home and Hummel, spoke strongly about the matter to an Evening World reporter this morning, and said that they had done all in their power to get young Stephan out of the Tombs, but that they had been unable to do so.

He lives in Larchmont, but he was an ill man, and he was unable to get out of the Tombs, and he was unable to get out of the Tombs, and he was unable to get out of the Tombs.

It is claimed that there are checks in the possession of the District Attorney showing that Dr. Fleming personally received the five thousand dollars from Mrs. Stephan.

When seen by an Evening World reporter this morning, Dr. Fleming's charges are denied.

The only check he can find for the five thousand dollars is a check for five hundred dollars, which he says is a check for his own expenses.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

THE LIVELY "MERRY-GO-ROUND."

LAST EDITION

GEN. BELKNAP DEAD.

Found Lifeless in His Room at Washington This Morning.

Grant's Secretary of War Passed Suddenly Away.

Paralysis Was the Probable Cause of His Decease.

OFFICIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.--Gen. Belknap, Secretary of War under President Grant, was found dead in his room this morning.

His death is supposed to have been due to paralysis.

The Coroner has been summoned. Gen. Belknap was about 70 years of age, and he was lodging for the time at his office, at Fourteenth street and New York avenue, which was the place of his death.

It is believed that he died during the early hours of this morning, as he had evidently been dead for hours, and he was known to have been visiting with friends in the city until midnight of Saturday.

The body was discovered shortly after 8:30 this morning, when, as the General's room remained fastened on the inside, the janitor was called and succeeded, by the use of a step-ladder, in getting a view of the room's interior.

The appearance of the body was as if death had come during a convulsion.

William West Belknap was the son of Brevet Brigadier General William Goldsmith Belknap, a soldier of the War of 1812 and of the Mexican war. He was born in Newburg, N. Y., Sept. 22, 1829.

He studied law at Georgetown, D. C., and joined the army as a major of volunteers at the beginning of the war and served all through, coming to a brevet Major General, and was at Shiloh, at Vicksburg and with Sherman in the march across Georgia.

After the war he was, until 1869, a Collector of Internal Revenue in Iowa. In 1870 he was promoted to Major General, and he was then Secretary of War under President Grant, and he remained in that position until 1877.

He was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character.

He was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character.

He was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character.

He was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character.

He was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character, and he was a man of a strong character.

THOMAS P. GILL TALKS OF THE IRISH LEADERS' COMING.

Young Kernochan's Suicide Wrapped in the Deepest Mystery.

Thomas P. Gill, M. P. from South Louth, Ireland, who arrived on the Alaska yesterday, is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

To an Evening World reporter this morning he said:

"A number of Irish leaders are to make a lecture tour of the country and endeavor to enlist the support of all friends of Ireland for the 'Famine' relief. They are Dillon, O'Brien, Sullivan and Harrington. They will probably be here within the next fortnight."

We had intended to sail on the Tennessee Oct. 1, but were forced to change this arrangement on account of the arrest of Dillon and O'Brien."

In regard to Dillon and O'Brien's escape from the English authorities Mr. Gill said:

"It was through the intervention of William Murphy, a member of Parliament, that they got away. He owns a yacht, and it was on the vessel that Dillon and O'Brien sailed away from Waterford, Ireland, and reached Havre, where they were to have taken the La Bourgeoise."

"They missed the steamer, however, and I am expecting every minute to hear that they will leave by the Normandie, which sails on Wednesday next. It is necessary that they should embark on a ship which does not fly an English flag or stop at any English port."

"It was first arranged that Dillon and O'Brien should leave for this country after their trial had ended if the sentences should not be more than a month's term. But Dillon's intentions were to drag the trial out almost indefinitely, and thus prevent Dillon and O'Brien from coming here."

"The plan was then formed to let the two patriots slip away quietly from Ireland, come over here and finish their lecturing tour, and then go back to the old country to see to the execution of the sentences."

"The only excuse I can find for the outrage is that the two patriots were in a state of mind which was as crazy as a hen's. I never had any transactions with Mr. Littlefield."

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

SIX WERE BURNED TO DEATH

AND 13 PEOPLE BADLY INJURED AT A LONDON FIRE.

IN CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD. LONDON, Oct. 13.--Six persons were burned to death and thirteen seriously injured, today, at a fire which destroyed today a block of houses and a cap manufactory in Mulda street. The firm holds the Government contract for military hats, caps and helmets.

William Spencer, a colored man, of 225 West Twenty-seventh street, was passing and recognized Fagan. Some women nearby told Fagan that shortly before he had been seen in Mulda street, and he had been seen in Mulda street, and he had been seen in Mulda street.

The women disappeared shortly after, and Spencer does not know who they were. He tore up his handkerchief and was handing up Fagan's wounds when James Foley, of 203 West Thirtieth street, came along, and together they carried him home.

Not anticipating anything serious, Fagan's parents got him to bed, where he slept soundly. At 1 o'clock they tried to wake him, but could not, and they summoned Dr. Fleming, of 13 West Thirtieth street, in Mulda street, and he was seen in Mulda street, and he was seen in Mulda street.

Three of his teeth were knocked out, and the back of his head was caved in by a brick which fell from the roof. He was taken to the hospital, and he was taken to the hospital, and he was taken to the hospital.

Fagan was twenty-two years old and was a native of Mulda street, and he was a native of Mulda street, and he was a native of Mulda street.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

THOMAS P. GILL TALKS OF THE IRISH LEADERS' COMING.

Young Kernochan's Suicide Wrapped in the Deepest Mystery.

Thomas P. Gill, M. P. from South Louth, Ireland, who arrived on the Alaska yesterday, is at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

To an Evening World reporter this morning he said:

"A number of Irish leaders are to make a lecture tour of the country and endeavor to enlist the support of all friends of Ireland for the 'Famine' relief. They are Dillon, O'Brien, Sullivan and Harrington. They will probably be here within the next fortnight."

We had intended to sail on the Tennessee Oct. 1, but were forced to change this arrangement on account of the arrest of Dillon and O'Brien."

In regard to Dillon and O'Brien's escape from the English authorities Mr. Gill said:

"It was through the intervention of William Murphy, a member of Parliament, that they got away. He owns a yacht, and it was on the vessel that Dillon and O'Brien sailed away from Waterford, Ireland, and reached Havre, where they were to have taken the La Bourgeoise."

"They missed the steamer, however, and I am expecting every minute to hear that they will leave by the Normandie, which sails on Wednesday next. It is necessary that they should embark on a ship which does not fly an English flag or stop at any English port."

"It was first arranged that Dillon and O'Brien should leave for this country after their trial had ended if the sentences should not be more than a month's term. But Dillon's intentions were to drag the trial out almost indefinitely, and thus prevent Dillon and O'Brien from coming here."

"The plan was then formed to let the two patriots slip away quietly from Ireland, come over here and finish their lecturing tour, and then go back to the old country to see to the execution of the sentences."

"The only excuse I can find for the outrage is that the two patriots were in a state of mind which was as crazy as a hen's. I never had any transactions with Mr. Littlefield."

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.

Dr. Fleming is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer, and he is the physician who has treated the mother of the murderer.